Cox Achieves National Certification

Joyce Cox, MBA MSN CNP OCN CHPN, Director of Strategic Care & Community Relations with FairHoPe Hospice & Palliative Care, Inc., achieved national board certification by the Hospice and Palliative Certification Center (HPCC). Certification is awarded to nurses who exemplify knowledge within the specialized areas of hospice and palliative care. Nurses must hold an unrestrictive, active license and have completed two years with over 1,000 hours of practice in the specialized field.

With over 30 years of nursing, Cox has a variety of clinical experience. Her background includes hospice, palliative care, oncology, surgical and critical care.

“Certification is great recognition of Joyce’s commitment to quality hospice and palliative care. Her vast clinical knowledge and expertise are evidenced in the care she provides. FairHoPe is proud of her accomplishment.” said Denise Bauer, FairHoPe CEO.

Hospice and palliative care nursing emphasizes the physical, psychological, emotional, and spiritual needs of patients when facing a life-limiting illness and through bereavement. FairHoPe Hospice & Palliative Care, Inc. provides care through a multi-interdisciplinary team of experts providing a special kind of care for patients and families.
